

IOSH Environment for Business.

Duration: One day.

Course overview:

The benefits to business of being more environmentally sustainable are huge. Developed with the support of leading environmental experts, this IOSH one-day course gives decision makers a clear overview of the economic benefits of the circular economy and equips them with the knowledge to explore the subject further.

Learning aims:

Environment for Business is designed for managers and supervisors in any sector and any type of organisation worldwide who require an awareness of environmental constraints, opportunities and sustainable business practice.

They won't become instant environment experts, but they will learn the practical actions they need to take, and the knowledge and tools to tackle issues relevant to their organisation. Environment for Business makes a powerful case for environmental awareness, efficient use of resources and sustainability as integral parts of the day-to-day business management.

Course content:

IOSH Environment for Business introduces candidates to:

- what is the environment?
- how does the environment have an impact on organisations and their business interests?
- what are your compliance responsibilities?
- how to implement measures to make money, save money and unlock innovation in your value chain.

Employers can expect to see an improved organisation-wide culture of environmental awareness and an appreciation of environmental impact, active staff involvement to improve the workplace and reduce risks and an enhanced reputation within your supply chain.
